PRICE INCREASE

As spring approaches, there are some positive indications that the economy and the building industry are continuing to improve. There has been growing demand for raw materials and as a result our manufacturers of vinyl products are announcing a price increase of 7% effective April 16th 2010.

Effective May 1st 2010, Rising Star Wholesale will be forced to increase some of our prices. New price books will be available upon request starting the week of May 10th 2010.

We look forward to continuing doing business with you.
